Hey Its difinitely a good song for a good soundboard. Regardless if it was the best soundboard ever made its still a good song. The song seems to go on forever and it was recorded in a single take. Also The drums seem weird in this song. It sounds like you barely felt them. These are just nitpicks i got. Overall an amazing recording and you should be proud of that. This is truly awesome, I think your best work, love it. I can feel the vibe you have when you are playing. One of the best powerchords I ever saw, really really good drumming as well. Good job man, keep it up You do an excellent job of keeping the song flowing and yet still creating that cool atmosphere. The acoustic part gives the song a much better feel and the good use of percussion is really nice. You do a good job on a lot of small details that make the song sound really good. Overall I have to say that this song is a great effort! I love this song, and you play it very well. It's a very solid performance, I can hear the attention to detail in each song part, making the song sounds good from start to finish.
