It creates the.tar.gz file and all subfolders have files inside. But I want to create it as it has been in the folder where i am, for example: %mkvzipper -m -- /home/user/img --out /home/user/img/archive.tar.gz I want to create it in /home/user/img What should I write to add that option to it, instead of what i have? A: %mkvzipper -m /home/user/img --out /home/user/img/archive.tar.gz Q: Difficulty with enumerate subscribing with a variable I'm writing a script where I need to find the largest number that comes after a fixed number of zeroes. For example, "44000000000000" might become "4400000000000000" so that the function could then return "4400000000000000". In my script, I'm trying to use enumerate to iterate through the number that I'm looking for. If it matches, I want to add 1

(CNSNews.com) - Four years ago, a college student named Eric Garner died while being placed in a chokehold by the New York City Police Department. On Tuesday, four years later, the city is still wrestling with the fallout from that tragedy. The White House announced that President Obama will hold a National Urban League conference Tuesday night that will feature Attorney General Eric Holder, as well as Democratic presidential hopefuls Hillary Clinton and Bernie Sanders. The conference's purpose is to discuss "race, policing, criminal justice and reform." "In 2013, Garner's death was ruled a homicide by the NYPD," CNSNews.com noted on Monday. "The Department of
